p. 7

- 1 a theatre                                      c musicians
b volunteers                                  d costumes

2 a T                      b F                      c T                      d F

3 Suggested Answer

I agree that choosing volunteers for a show can be difficult. You will have to choose who is doing what job and that can make some people happy, but it can also make some people disappointed. It's a good idea to have some help when choosing volunteers.

p. 10

- 1 a Sheena is on a street.
b She is walking home.
c There is heavy rain, thunder and lightning.
d Sheena tries to use a branch to steady herself.

- 1 a Floods                                      c protection
b kill    d water

2 a F                      b T                      c T                      d F

3 Suggested Answer

I agree with the statement. I think that taking care of the water that we have will mean we do not lose any and then we can use it when there is a drought. We must try to save water as much as possible. That means not leaving the taps running when we brush our teeth, having short showers instead of baths, and using water from washing the dishes to water the plants.

p. 14

- 1 a Cantor is doing his homework.
b Elisa is dreaming about the dress rehearsal.
c Cantor goes to visit Elisa's dream.
d Elisa is worried about the costumes that she made for the show.

- 1 a Don't                      b Do                      c Don't                      d Do

2 a T                      b F                      c F                      d F

3 Suggested Answer

I agree with this. Sometimes in life bad or negative things happen. We can't always stop these things from happening, but we can try to make things better by doing the right thing. For example, if we are worried about school exams, we can talk to our teachers and parents, or we can prepare ourselves better by studying more.

p. 18

- 1 a He is having a glass of water in the kitchen.
b He gets a feeling that someone is having a nightmare.
c Sheena is having trouble because she is in a thunderstorm and the water is rising.
d Sheena uses the tree branch as a walking stick.

2 a T                      b T                      c F                      d T

3 Suggested Answer

I think the twins have lost the opportunity to make lots of new friends. Their short answers and low voices must have led other students to think that the twins didn't want to make new friends. However, I think that there must be a reason why they did this.

p. 22

- 1 a Shaun and Sandra drive an old van.
b They are looking for the people their boss wants to meet.
c Tourists can see the old castle at Dornoch.
d Sandra knows Colby Johansen from university.

b camping                                      d festival

2 a F                      b T                      c F                      d F

3 Suggested Answer

I agree. If a town is popular, then lots of people will visit it. If you are trying to hide from people, there is more chance that others will see you there and you will be found. The best place to hide from someone is a remote place that no one visits.

p. 26

- 1 a The innkeeper at the Dornoch Arms called Colby because two visitors were asking about him.
b (Uncle) Vigil knocks at the door.
c Vilicus packs clothes and books.
d Vigil and the twins travel south.

b weather                                      d backpack

2 a F                      b T                      c T                      d F

3 Suggested Answer

I don't think this is correct. I think you first have to know how long your trip is going to be. Then, you can decide what you are going to take with you. After that, you can decide what pieces of luggage you are going to take.

p. 30

- 1 a They are walking to school.
b She enjoyed the music and the singing.
c Sheena heard Vilicus Johansen in her dream.
d She invites Cantor to the theatre club rehearsal.

b possible                                      d Twins

2 a F                      b T                      c F                      d T

3 Suggested Answer

I think this is true. The world of dreams is the world of our imagination. We can do anything, go anywhere and be anything. At the end of the dream, we wake up and leave the world of dreams behind. In the real world, we have to study or work, stay at home and we are who we are. And that's quite often a good thing.

p. 34

- 1 a They sit at the far corner of the school cafeteria.
b They sit there because they want to discuss Sheena and Elisa's dreams.
c The twins are following Father's instructions.
d Elisa was the first person to ask the twins to meet after school hours.

b headteacher                                      d tour

2 a F                      b T                      c T                      d F

3 Suggested Answer

I think it's a very good idea for the headteacher to welcome new students publicly. In this way, everyone in the school knows the names of the new students. On the other hand, it might be embarrassing for new students if they have to stand up in front of the whole school.

p. 38

- 1 a Vigil Johansen is a tall man with blonde hair and blue eyes, dressed in black.
- b They are with Vigil because they are in danger.
- c Vigil's gift is that he can understand the feelings of the twins and the people they visit.
- d Sandra can feel when the twins visit someone's dream.

2 a F                      b T                      c F                      d T

3 Suggested Answer

I think this is true. If your app can send information about when you got in trouble, then the rescue teams will have a better chance of finding you. The app can send the exact time you were at a particular location, so the rescue team will find you more easily.

BOOK 2

p. 42

- 1 a He is watching a football match in Rivertown High School.
- b He didn't join a team because he thought he was not good enough.
- c Patience is not one of Paul's strong qualities.

- b Internet                      d time

2 a T                      b F                      c T                      d T

3 Suggested Answer

I think this is a good idea. If you never finish anything, you will never find out what you are good at. If you finish and it's perfect, then you know you are good at it.

If you finish and it's not perfect, you know that you need to try harder or that perhaps you need to do something else.

p. 46

- 1 a Jonathan is in the computer lab of Rivertown High.
- b He is working on the code for a mobile app.
- c He is thinking about his future career.
- d It's coming from inside his head.

- 1 a money                      c life
- b team                      d future

2 a T                      b F                      c F                      d T

3 Suggested Answer

I agree with this. When you volunteer, you give up your free time and energy without earning money. You are doing something good for your community. But if you don't enjoy what you are doing, then you will soon stop. If you are comfortable with what you are doing when you volunteer, then you will continue to give your time and energy freely.

p. 50

- 1 a Cantor sees Paul at the practice football game.
- b Paul dreams of becoming a football scout.
- c He decides to visit Paul in his daydream.
- d A nexum is a feeling that a dreamer needs help.

- 1 a daydream                      c daydream
- b vision                      d vision

2 a T                      b T                      c F                      d T

3 Suggested Answer

I think this is true. To make the world a better place, we first have to see that better place in our minds. This is where daydreaming and visions come in. In daydreaming or a vision, we can see the world we want and think about how to make it real. This is why dreamers are very important.

p. 54

- 1 a They haven't really met and only share a few classes.
b He told them to stop visiting people's dreams.

- 3 Suggested Answer
I agree with this. Twins, identical or not, are born at the same time, brought up in the same house in the same ways. They often share a room and sometimes they wear the same clothes. Because they share all these experiences, they have a strong connection that often stays with them throughout their lives even when they go their separate ways.

p. 58

- 1 a They are at Paul's house.
b He can tell because Paul is walking up and down the room.
c They are shopping at the mall.
d Since their dream visits, they can feel where the twins are and what they are doing.

- 3 Suggested Answer
I think this is true. When you go to a new school, you don't know any of the students or the teachers. It can take time to make friends and find out how the school works. This can be difficult. That's why we need to make new students feel welcome when they come to our school.

p. 62

- 1 a They are at home in the living room.
b Cantor searched the whole community of dreamers their family has visited.
c They think they are special because they care about other people and want to help those who are suffering.

- 3 Suggested Answer
I think this is true. When you are calm in an emergency, you can give all the facts about it. You can say where it is, who it is and what happened exactly. All this information helps the emergency services. It is not easy to stay calm in an emergency though, but you must try the best you can.

p. 66

- 1 a They are going for a walk along Angel Hill Road to the top of the hill.

I think this is true. Camping is a great experience. You develop skills such as how to put up a tent or how to cook food in the wild. It is also a way to connect with nature. Imagine waking up in the morning to the sound of birds in the trees. Then go out and smell the fresh air. Camping is a trip that you will remember forever.

p. 70

I think this is true. Toxic people do not like other people being happy and will do anything they can to stop this. For example, a toxic person may try to break up someone's friendships with others by telling lies about them.

p. 74

- 1 a He is in his car, on the way to his office in New Haven.

3 Suggested Answer

I think this is true. The best thing that real friends can do is to be there for their friends when they are in need. They do not always have to do anything special like helping with chores or finding solutions, they just have to give their friend in need some company. That tells the friend in need that they have someone on their side, someone who will always listen to them and support them.

BOOK 3

3 Suggested Answer

I only partly agree with this. When you are mountain biking, then it is a good idea to stick to what you know as it can be dangerous if you don't. But in life, sticking to what we know is the safe option. If we never try anything different, we will never know what we are capable of. Sometimes, we have to do things for the first time to find out what we are really good at.

p. 82

- 1 a Colby gave advice to David and Mallory.

3 Suggested Answer

I think this is true. Companies may spend lots of money on advertisements, but it is the customers who buy their products. More customers buying a company's products mean that the product is successful. However, not all customers pay attention to advertisements. They ask their friends and try products before making up their minds.

p. 86

I agree with this. A few years ago, coaches didn't have free Wi-Fi and you couldn't charge your phone on them. Now, all that is possible. In the future, coaches will offer a lot more services because of the advances in technology. They may offer games and virtual reality headsets with films and documentaries about your destination.

3 Suggested Answer

I don't agree with this. If you are going on a short trip, then you will not have time to relax and enjoy the train ride. If you are going on a long journey, then you will have time to admire the scenery, maybe take a nap or eat in the train's restaurant, but you are still focused on your destination. I don't know anyone who travels on trains just to travel on a train. They are usually going somewhere and have chosen the train as the best means of transport for them.

I strongly agree with this. If you are kicking glass, small pieces of it may fly off and hit you or the other passengers in the face or, even worse, in the eyes. Covering yourself and them with an item or items of clothing will prevent this from happening.

I think this is true. Some people can't work from home. Maybe there isn't enough space, maybe they have young children or maybe there are other people at home working remotely. It's also true some jobs cannot be done from home such as policemen and firemen, doctors and dentists.

I think this is true. Skyscrapers may have lots of advantages like having everything you need in one building, but some people do not want that. They like to take a walk to the shops, the gym or a restaurant. Personally, I wouldn't like to live in a skyscraper because I don't like heights!

3 Suggested Answer

I agree with this. Artists first have an idea, which is another name for a dream or a vision. Then they write the song or the book, or sculpt and paint. Then we hear, read or see that work and the idea is passed to us. Jobs like scientists and mechanics also have ideas which start in dreams and eventually reach us, and usually help make our lives easier.
