

Ukraine: Culture Clips

4 Eating out in Lviv

1 Suggested Answer Key

My favourite restaurant in Kyiv, where I live, is Puzata Hata. This is actually a café/restaurant chain that has places around the city. There are several popular places where people go to eat out in Kyiv. One of them is Kanapa. Locals love it because there they can enjoy delicious food and an amazing view of the city, as the restaurant is on a hill. Another local favourite is Shato. People like it because of the modern atmosphere and great selection of dishes.

2 Suggested Answer Key

I haven't been to any of these places but looking at all the sweets at the Cukiernia display I'd really love to go there. I love sweets and these pastries look delicious. This must be what makes the shop special. Lviv's Chocolate Workshop looks good because you can actually see how the sweets are made. What makes the International Varenyky Fund "Archive" special is probably its nice atmosphere. Kryivka and Harbuz are probably special not only because of their good food but also because of their interesting décor.

3

1 T 2 DS 3 DS 4 F 5 T 6 F

4

1 in advance 3 décor 5 aromatic
2 enthusiast 4 authentic 6 on the go

5 Suggested Answer Key

2 Cukiernia is popular with young children. (T)

3 Lviv exported chocolate to Europe in the Middle Ages. (F – Lviv exported chocolate to Europe in the 19th century.)

4 The Chocolate Workshops only sells chocolate products. (F – It also serves coffee.)

5 Visitors to the Chocolate Workshop get a chance to see how the chocolate treats are made. (T)

6 The Varenyky Fund serves nothing but varenyky. (F – It also serves different Ukrainian and European dishes.)

7 An English-speaking visitor would have difficulty ordering at the Varenyky Fund. (F – The restaurant's menu is also available in English.)

8 Kryivka requires you to say a special phrase before they can let you into the restaurant. (T)

9 Harbutz is in the city centre. (T)

10 Harbuz is a bit less noisy in the evening than it is during the day. (T)

6 (Ss' own answers)